Two Italian laborers were killed last Friday afternoon at the Sachem's Head quarries by the caving in of a bank of earth.

Rev. William R. Mulford of the Church of the Ascension preached at St. Mark's church, Mystic, yesterday morning and evening.
Mr. James Dooley, manager of the Dooley Pretzel Works, has returned from an extended business trip throughout southern New England.
Rev. Dr. Twichell of Hartford preached at Battell chapel yesterday morning and addressed the general religious meeting of the university at 6:45 in the evening.

A large number of people attended the funeral yesterday in South Norwalk of Oliver Mumford, who was killed by the trolley cars. The Odd Fellows conducted the services.

The body of the drowned man which was found in New London last Friday has been identified as that of Thomas Pratt, who has a son, Thomas Pratt, Jr., and two daughters living in this city.

A dispatch says: G. A. Nelson, a Branford shoemaker, has left town after drawing his funds amounting to several hundred dollars, from the bank. His wife is left in destitute circumstances.

Mrs. Frank L. Arnold of 372 Grand avenue, wife of the train dispatcher of the Shore Line division of the Consolidated railroad, has returned home from a six weeks' visit to relatives in Cleveland, O.

The nut crop is great this year, while the chestnut harvest is one of the greatest ones in the history of Connecticut. In the woods the ground beneath every chestnut tree, big and little, old and young, is literally speckled with the brown fruit.

Frank J. McGuire, who is at Bagby's drug store, Grand avenue, was one of the three pharmacists who successfully passed the last examination conducted by the state board of pharmacy. L. F. La Pierre of Norwich and C. H. Shea of Worcester, Mass., were the other two. The latter thinks of locating in this city.

Samuel P. Baker, one of the popular train dispatchers of the Consolidated railroad, is one of the happiest men in the city, and to-day will be busy distributing cigars among his many friends. Saturday afternoon his wife presented him with a ten-pound son and heir, hence his exhilaration. Mother and son are doing well.

The Central T. A. union held a meeting in St. Alouysius rooms last evening and appointed to arrange for an entertainment, the proceeds of which will be used for giving rallies. The committee consists of John McGowan of St. Ignatius, Edward Sheehan of St. Patrick's, Thomas Flood of Sacred Heart, and Thomas Mesagher of St. Alouysius.

A citizen writes: The sidewalk on Crown street, north side, between Orange and Church streets, opposite the harness shop, should be repaired and at once. A lady fell down there to-day (Sunday) owing to the defective pavement, and was severely bruised and stunned. And there are others who have fallen there, owing to the same cause.

Mayor Scofield, Commodore James D. Smith and H. K. McHarg, members of the board of trustees of the Stamford hospital, came to New Haven Saturday and visited the New Haven hospital. They also visited the Bridgeport hospital. Their object was to obtain information which will prove valuable in making plans for alterations in the building soon to be used as a public hospital in Stamford.

EAST HARTFORD TRAGEDY

A RAILROAD ENGINEER KILLS ONE MAN AND WOUNDS ANOTHER.

Claims He Was Attacked by a Gang and Did It in Self Defense—Excitement in East Hartford Over the Tragedy—The Gang Terrorized the Town.

Hartford, Oct. 20.—George E. Swain, an engineer on the New York and New England railroad, and living at 15 Linden street, East Hartford, is locked up in this city for shooting and killing William H. Boyle and wounding Edward C. Boyle early this morning. Swain claims that the shooting was done in self-defense.

It seems that Swain had been having a revolver cleaned in this city. He got it at about midnight and boarded a car for his home in East Hartford. Upon reaching that place he tested his weapon by firing it into the air on East Main street in front of W. E. Noble's drug store. The shot attracted the attention of a party of men, members of which were the Boyles. Three shots were fired after that and at one of them William Boyle fell dead, shot through the heart. Edward Boyle was shot through the wrist. Swain rushed into the drug store and crouched behind a counter. The wounded Boyle followed, and grasping two soda bottles smashed them over Swain's head, cutting his head and face badly. Swain rushed out through the back door, out across lots, on to East Main street, and went towards his home, half a mile away. He stopped at the house of a friend, J. C. Taft, where he was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Moore and taken to Hartford and locked up. With Swain there were several friends, all of whom claim that they were attacked by the Boyle party. The Boyle crowd, on the other hand, claim that they were fired upon without provocation.

Coroner Taintor held an autopsy over the remains of the dead Boyle and found that a large bullet, 38-calibre, had passed through the heart. Death was instantaneous. Swain is locked up on a charge of simple assault, but this will probably be amended to murder or manslaughter upon the completion of the coroner's investigation. Swain will be taken to East Hartford to-morrow for a preliminary hearing.

Swain is a highly respected resident of East Hartford. For twenty years he has been employed as an engineer on the New England road. He owns a house in East Hartford and lives there with his wife and family.

The Boyles were members of a gang which has sought to terrorize East Hartford for some time. They were in the habit of coming to Hartford Saturday nights, getting drunk and returning home late at night and insulting any one and every one. It is thought that they tackled Swain and his party this morning and met the wrong people and that Swain in his excitement used the revolver, which he happened to have along.

A New Lodge to be Instituted in East Haven
Saltonstall lodge, No. 238, New England Order of Protection, will be instituted by Supreme Deputy F. D. Grinnell on Wednesday evening, October 23, at East Haven town hall. Members of city lodges are invited to be present.

A PALACE HOTEL.

The Majestic Built by the Gays is One of the Grandest in the State—"The Delmonico of New Haven."

Hotel Majestic, the only peer in the state of Connecticut of the famous New York hotels, is situated on Chapel street near the college campus and Hyperion theater. It is what its name signifies a "King" among hotels. This palace hotel was opened June 24, and has since that time been patronized by those desiring the best in the state and still wish to withdraw from the noise and bustle which surrounds the downtown hotels. The high class of its patronage is maintained by the unexcelled methods of its proprietors. On entering this magnificent establishment one is immediately impressed by the taste and style displayed in the decorations and appointments. Its spacious and beautiful suites of rooms with private bath rooms are much sought after by high class families who desire to avoid the cares of housekeeping and the expense of an establishment. The proprietors and manager are complimented on every hand by the traveling public and our best local families who are constant patrons of this remarkable successful house. The musical dinners every Thursday evening from 6 to 9 are a charming feature and are indulged in by many of our best local people. The new fad among society people is "A dinner at the Majestic" in the beautiful pink decorated marble dining room with its elegant columns and heavy paneled ceilings. The cuisine is at all times up to the highest standard of excellence.

On enquiry we find that beautiful suites of three rooms and bath room with full hotel service and table if engaged permanently can be obtained for two people at $35 per week, and for three people at $52.50 per week. These beautiful rooms are on the front of the house and have a fine view from a bay window up and down Chapel street. The terms are very moderate considering what is offered.

IN MIDDLETOWN.

Civil Engineers Will Convene.

Plans have been completed for the annual meeting of the civil engineers of the state. It will take place next Wednesday afternoon at Middletown, and nearly all the engineers of the state will be present. The meeting will consist of a banquet, followed by informal speeches and a number of addresses on matters of vital state interest. After the speeches the Middletown quarries will be inspected and the body will take a trip to Cromwell to oversee the road in that place as constructed by the Good Roads commission.

Will Sail for Scotland.

Miss Susan Henderson, sister of Mrs. James Mustarde of No. 94 Crown street, who had been visiting in this country for the past six months, will return to Scotland by the Anchor line steamer Furnessia on Saturday. On her arrival in Scotland Miss Henderson will be married to Mr. James Beannin, farmer, Parkhill farm, Arbroath.
